No. 51 CLARK STREET.
JUGHAN, G. H. HAY, EDITORS.
CITY OF CHICAGO.
Tuesday, ... Dec. 20, 1859.

...last page be a variety of news and matter.

Kansas Matters.

...ispondence from Kansas puts a new ...atters in that Territory. Instead of ...h is asserted by the Missouri Republi...ter and other journals, the Free-State ...of every point, coming out of their ...in with honors that cannot be stolen.

...or may be assured that the story told ...respondent is very near the truth. ...e words have always been verified, ...rilly, by the Presidency party; and ...ause it is not probable he is wrong, ...e bills of a "lasting down" on the ...he border ruffians, that we, even, who ...ontemptible an opinion of their cour... not prepared to expect. And then, ...what a spectacle for decent men to

A Slur at the Wild-Cats.

...we print the answers of the officers of the ...ank, and of R. K. Swift & Co., ...shers. We would ...ey would ...ll over Illi... ...ation can or will ...ervice in the ...ency. It is ...ll over Illi... ...ssession, but ...ssession blind their judgments and ...ir business depending on it, and they ...ir Georgian and Tennessee brethren ...ir condition into which certain ...party op... ...posed to a sound circulation was ...e force memchants. Nothing cannot succeed. Individuals may suffer; but the country is well off. Furthermore ...and parties there may be hard run; but our farmers are flush, and our safe business men snug. A panic under these circumstances is an impossibility. The whole people are too well off—too many are the abundant everywhere, to create even a pressure which can harm any class, or hurt the special interests of any large portion of our community in any part of the State.

We do not overlook, and no sensible man will overlook, one fact; viz: that whenever any law of commerce is violated the penalty will follow. There is no escape. The penalty may be lighter or heavier; but come it will as sure as that effect follows cause. That speculators or others, then, who are extended and who have relied upon this unsound currency should suffer by the withdrawal of that currency; that their suffering should effect injuriously those dependent upon them, all this was apparent long ago. But what then? Are we to continue that vicious system for the benefit of a few? Shall we look only at this suffering, and forget the remedy which will put and keep the whole business community in a safe and sound financial condition? Business men, we take it, are not fools, and will not be scared from their propriety by any such pleas, whether pressed by a mistaken judgment or a venal pen.

We have taken our course and shall keep it. What the interests of our city and State require, seem clear to us. In defence of those interests we shall persevere in the future without regard to cliques or parties, or any assaults which cliques or parties may make upon us.

The Times and the Police.

The attacks of the Times upon the Police, are as ill-timed as they are untrue. We do not suppose they see fit to make them for the benefit of the Press, and made war upon an unsound currency the moment it appeared. But what of all this? Shall we, on that account, claim the use of credentials seen by an idle chance, or seek to drive them from a sensible position by an empty and silly prejudice? May we shelter ourselves, as the Press seeks to do, by the recent accident, or hide the true basis through Times blunder, or a desire to "get even" with the Policeman's opinion of their courage? We are not prepared to expect. And then, what a spectacle for decent men to
